Borax, generously combined with good soap, is nature's greatest cleanser.

The borax must be combined with the soap in the proportion of one part borax to three parts soap. Impossible in bar soap.

The only way to put in that much borax is in the form of borax soap chips.

Two pounds of borax soap chips, which costs 25c, will go as far as 50 worth of bar soap, and soap powder.

Borax Soap Chips makes the work easier and the clothes cleaner, too!
